DIAZ SHELLS PALACE--WALLS ARE TOTTERING--MADERO POSITION PERILOUS--U. S. CLUB WRECKED

FIGHTING BEGAN EARLY--FOES CLOSE IN

Heavy Guns Brought into Play; 2000 Slain in 4 Days--All Foreigners in Danger

REBELS IN NORTH MOBILIZE AGAINST INVASION

Chihuahua in Hands of Drunken Mexicans--Americans in Danger in Sonora

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 13.—After a short lull in the battle between Diaz and Madero forces, it was resumed shortly after 10 o'clock. Diaz centered his fire on the National Palace and portions of it were soon tottering. Great holes were torn in the walls by shot and shell, and it is expected the position of the Maderista garrison will soon be untenable.

SHOTS FIRED DIRECTLY INTO AMERICAN CLUB BUILDING MEXICO CITY, Feb. 13.—The library of the American Club was wrecked at noon by shrapnel fired directly into the building. The bullets perforated scores of pictures, including the portraits of Washington, Lincoln, McKinley and Taft. No one was killed.

BATTLE WAS RENEWED EARLY; FIGHTING AT CLOSER RANGE MEXICO CITY, Feb. 13.—The desperate battle being waged for Mexico's capital was resumed at 8:10 o'clock this morning. Except for the fact that the belligerents had drawn closer together their positions were practically the same as yesterday. Madero assumed the aggressive, and pressed his heavier guns into service. Diaz replied with cannon and machine guns. Bursting shells are still falling outside the fighting zone, jeopardizing the lives and property of American, English, German and other residents. At 9 o'clock the artillery duel between the Diaz and Madero forces continued with Madero's heavy guns inflicting great damage on the arsenal where Diaz is holding out. Shells landing outside of the fire zone killed and wounded several noncombatants including women and children. At 10 o'clock a lull in the firing took place, although shells fell intermittently. The area of bombardment has been much wider than yesterday. The extent of the casualties are unknown although it is believed nearly two thousand have been killed so far in the four days' battle.

REBELS MOBILIZING TO RESIST POSSIBLE AMERICAN INVASION EL PASO, Feb. 13.—To aid the garrison of Juarez to resist probable American invasion the mobilization of all Diaz troops in Northern Chihuahua has been ordered, according to Diaz leaders here today. They declare the garrison has revolted to Diaz despite the denials of Colonel Vasquez, commandant. There are three thousand rebels at Juarez. Refugees from Chihuahua tell of great disorder, and the danger of hundreds of Americans. Chihuahua is in the control of a thousand drunken Mexicans, and the three thousand troops there refuse to fire on the mobs. It is reported that Governor Gonzales has fled from the city.

ALARM FOR AMERICANS IN SONORA; GARRISONS ARE DISAFFECTED DOUGLAS, Ariz., Feb. 13.—Great alarm is felt today for the safety of American citizens in the state of Sonora, Mexico, following reports that the garrisons are becoming disaffected and are only awaiting the outcome of the battle of Mexico City to declare for Diaz. Refugees report that army officers are giving out reports that the revolution is a trivial affair which will be suppressed in a few days.

BONDS FOR LABORERS CHICAGO, Feb. 13.—Bonds for the release of William Shoupe, and E. H. Houlahan, Chicago, two union men convicted in Indianapolis for transporting dynamite illegally, were submitted to Federal District Attorney Miller today for approval.

LURID REPORTS FROM MEXICO CITY--TAFT URGED TO ACT--WAR PREPARATIONS GO ON

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—Alarmingly lurid reports from Ambassador Wilson in Mexico has caused President Taft, at the request of Secretary of State Knox, to give the ambassador permission to draw funds to any amount for the care of American and foreign refugees. The dispatch also told of the failure of Wilson and the German ambassador to secure a cessation of hostilities, and confirmed the report of the killing of Mrs. W. H. Holmes and Mrs. Percy Griffiths, Americans. Ambassador Wilson said: "Americans are sleeping on their arms, prepared to defend their lives and property if necessary. Officials believe order will never be restored until President Taft orders intervention."

Ambassador Wilson reported that the entire population of Mexico City is terrorized by the rumors of massacres. Even the Red Cross Society is not respected by the belligerents and in a skirmish this afternoon the president of the Red Cross was slain. An unconfirmed report has been received that two thousand rebels have arrived at San Luis Ray enroute for the capital. It is probable that President Taft will submit a matter of proposed intervention to Congress.

Diplomats and officials of the State Department do not regard the killing of two American women in Mexico City as a sufficient cause for intervention. They maintain that such fatalities are merely the fortunes of war, and that an overt act is necessary to cause an invasion.

SHIP'S OFFICERS ASSAULTED; ANTI-FOREIGN OUTBREAK Notification has been received by the State Department of an assault made upon Surgeon Camerer and Ensign Guthrie, officers of the cruiser Denver, in Acapulco during an anti-foreign outbreak. Neither was se-

U.S. ARMY AND NAVY READY TO ACT IN CASE OF INTERVENTION

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—Summed up last night, when there was a feeling of greater expectancy in military circles than at any time since the Spanish-American war, the naval situation with regard to the Mexican trouble is as follows:

Between 2500 and 3000 marines of the Atlantic battleship fleet and Guantanamo naval station were prepared for immediate movements to Vera Cruz, where they might be kept aboard ship ready for landing to provide an avenue of escape to Mexico City for foreigners as they did at Pekin. Six dreadnoughts with approximately 6000 jacksies and officers now are rushing under full steam for Mexican ports—four on the Atlantic and two on the Pacific. The first should arrive at their destination Friday, the last Sunday.

Ten other crack fighting ships of the Atlantic battleship fleet, swinging at anchor seventy hours off at Guantanamo, are ready for sea. They have approximately 9000 officers and men.

Five in Southern Waters. The navy's plans show:

Georgia, 15,000-ton battleship, Captain Marbury Johnson, due at Vera Cruz Friday.

Vermont, 16,000-ton battleship, flagship of Rear Admiral Fletcher, commanding the second division of the Atlantic fleet, Captain Harry M. P. Puse, due at Vera Cruz Saturday.

Nebraska, 15,000-ton battleship, Captain Spencer Wood, due at Vera Cruz Saturday.

Virginia, 15,000-ton battleship, flagship of Rear Admiral Usher, commanding the third division, Captain John D. McDonald, due at Tampico Saturday.

Colorado, 14,000-ton armored cruiser, flagship of Rear Admiral Southerland, commander-in-chief of Pacific fleet, Captain William L. Gilmer, due at Mazatlan Friday.

South Dakota, 14,000-ton armored cruiser, Captain Charles P. Plankett, due at Acapulco Sunday.

Within call to supplant this force are the cruiser Denver, en route to Acapulco, Salvador; the transport Buffalo, Corinto, Nicaragua; the cruiser Des Moines, due at Bluefields, Nicaragua, Saturday; the gunboat Nashville, en route to Puerto Coroz, Honduras, and the gunboat Annapolis, en route to Amapala, Honduras.

The battleships Wyoming, Utah, Florida, Arkansas, North Dakota, Michigan, South Carolina, Minnesota, Idaho and Ohio, seventeen torpedo-boat destroyers and many auxiliary craft of the Atlantic fleet remain with Rear Admiral Badger, commanding the Atlantic fleet at Guantanamo.

All these moves have been ordered hurriedly, even feverishly by President Taft.

Army Situation The army situation is as follows: The first brigade of the first army division—just created in the reorganization—3000 men in all, the nucleus of an expeditionary force of 15,000, was put on marching orders ready to entrain for Newport News, Va., where army transports wait under steam.

The first brigade consists of the third infantry, at Madison barracks and Oswego; the fifth infantry, at Plattsburg; and the twenty-ninth infantry at various posts in New York state, the whole including about 3000 men.

Today Major General Aleshire, quarter-master general, followed up the orders to commission the army transports at Newport News by directing the immediate assemblage of food supply, wagon transportation and other equipment for troops on foreign service.

By orders issued by the general staff yesterday morning the senior military officer near Galveston began immediately to get in touch with merchant ship owners to see what could be chartered on short notice.

DELAY IN SEWER WORK ABOUT 60 DAYS

City Attorney Heathman Says Many Defects Discovered In Proceedings

CITY ENGINEER TAKES PART IN DISCUSSION

Nothing Left for Trustees to Do But Start All Over Once More

Corroboration of the south side sewer mixup reported in the Register last evening, was frankly made today by city officials. While there was a general feeling of regret that there must be further delay in the commencement of work on this most important improvement, the fact that there is nothing to do but start the proceedings all over again, was grimly realized.

City Clerk Burke explained this morning that while the contract for the construction of the sewer had been formally awarded to S. M. Kern, of Los Angeles, the contract had not been signed. According to Burke a period of fifteen days must elapse after the award of such a contract before the contract can be formally entered into and signed by all the parties concerned. This is in accordance with the provisions of the Vrooman Act, under which most of this kind of work is done.

The city trustees awarded the contract to Kern at the meeting February 3, which is just nine legal days ago. The contract price is $13,900. "The money will come up in the regular course of business next Monday," City Engineer S. H. Finley was everything will be straightened out, I suppose.

City Attorney Heathman said this morning that the proceedings have been invalidated, not because of any one particular technical error, but because of many mistakes.

"We have found that the defects go all the way back to the plans and specifications themselves," said the city attorney. "There have been defects through the entire proceedings. It is not necessary to go into all the details. There have been mistakes in the publication proceedings. The lawyer for the contractor says there are defects in the plans, and defects in the specifications. There are other defects, and the attorney for the contractor says the whole proceedings must be gone over again."

"How long will the work be delayed in consequence of these errors?"

"Sixty days," was the answer.

City Engineer S. H. Finley was informed of the statement made by the city attorney in reference to the plans and specifications, and he promptly and vigorously resented the imputation that he was in any wise responsible for the present situation.

"I had absolutely nothing to do with the proceedings except to prepare the plans and specifications," said he. "Copies of the specifications were furnished those who wished to bid on the job, and the plans were here in my office for the inspection of those interested. The plans and specifications could not be defective in the sense here implied. There could be no defect in them that would invalidate a contract. The drawing up of the legal proceedings in such matters rests wholly with the city attorney, and he must shoulder the responsibility."

SUFFRAGISTS ON THE HIKE

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Feb. 13.—General Rosalie Jones, leader of the army of suffragettes, marching on Washington, was greeted by city officials when she arrived here at noon today. Three sore-footed suffragettes fell out by the wayside.

NO MEXICAN ORDERS YET FOR MILITIA

Reports that the California state militia are about to be ordered to the front because of the Mexican revolution and the probability that the United States may intervene, have not been corroborated so far as the Santa Ana guardsmen know. Captain Ulm of Company L has not received any orders for the mustering of the local soldiery, although he has no official knowledge of what any hour may bring forth. The war fever is beginning to grow among some of the boys in blue, all of whom will be found ready to answer a call to arms the moment it may be issued.

TO MAKE PICTURESQUE ROAD ALONG RUGGED COAST EASILY PASSABLE FOR AUTOMOBILES

Supervisor Leck to Spend $3,000 in Improvements on Highway From Laguna Beach to Serra

Next week work will be started at both ends of the road between Laguna Beach and San Juan-Ily-the-Sea, and before the men working under instructions from Supervisor Leck have finished, the road along that picturesque section of Orange county's wonderful coast will be placed in good condition for automobile travel. The improvements will include the erection of two bridges, one across Aliso creek and one across Salt creek. Altogether the work will call for the expenditure of about $3000.

Supervisor Jasper Leck of Tustin, in whose district the south end of the county belongs, went over the road by automobile yesterday. He made the trip from the San Juan Capistrano end. At Serra he held a conference with his road boss, Aaron Buchheim, who will turn his teams loose on the road work as soon as he can get them off of other work in which they are now engaged. At Laguna Beach, the supervisor made arrangements with Ed. Porter to take up the job at Laguna at once. The road is passable for automobiles now, but it is a hard road, and many an automobile has been stuck on its sandy or steep grades. The journey from Laguna Beach through Arch Beach down the coast is tougher for automobilists than coming up the beach to Laguna Beach from the mouth of the San Juan canyon. County Surveyor McBride went over the road thoroughly last year and has set stakes for changing the road in a number of places. Better grades will be established all along the road. New bridges and culverts will be put in all along the line. When this road is fixed up in good shape undoubtedly it will become a favorite drive for automobilists. While most of the through travel to San Diego county will probably continue to go along the main road west of El Toro and through San Juan Capistrano, there is no reason why a large number of the tourists will not turn off at Myford, take the Laguna road over the low foothills and down the beautiful canyon to the beach and from there proceed to the main road at Serra, along the road leading over high promontories and mesas, with rugged hills to the left and a wonderful sea, breaking on rocks and picturesque coves, to the right.

HOUSE FILIBUSTER HALTS FAIR BILL

Friends of $2,000,000 Appropriation Measure for Panama Fair Now to Try Senate

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—The bill to appropriate $2,000,000 for a government exhibit at the San Francisco exposition and put it in charge of a commission of seven was again blocked in the house yesterday. Its opponents once more filibustered against it successfully and prevented it from being considered.

Representative Kahn and other friends of the bill are discouraged over the prospects in the house. They are now going to try the senate. They hope to get provision for government participation put in one of the appropriation bills. In that event the matter will go to conference and be thrashed out there.

It is plain that the provision for a commission of seven, coupled with the fact this commission is to be composed of "lame ducks," is what has hurt the bill. Had it been a plain proposition for an appropriation for any reasonable amount for a government exhibit, without the commission feature, it could not have been attacked with likelihood of success.

VACAVILLE BANK WRECKED BY THUGS

Robbers After $10,000 Loot; Failed--Posses Pursue in Radius of Fifty Miles

VACAVILLE, Cal., Feb. 13.—Automobile bandits blew the safe of the Bank of Vacaville this morning and afterward escaped. It was believed they had secured $10,000. The detonation of the explosion aroused the entire town and a posse under Sheriff McDonald started in pursuit. Many citizens witnessed the flight of the bandits. The country within a radius of fifty miles is being notified to keep a lookout for the robbers and many posses are scouring the country to determine if the men had abandoned their machine, or are seeking safety by flight through the hills. All the roads are being watched.

The robbers entered the bank through a rear window by the use of a crowbar, then bored a hole in a concrete wall vault and set off a heavy charge of nitroglycerine. The concussion was of such force that it toppled the safe over the top protruding through the jagged hole torn in the side of the vault. The posse took the trail within twenty minutes after the bandits left the bank.

It was later reported that the robbers did not secure the $10,000 which the vault contained. When the explosion occurred the vault fell face downward, protecting the money. The robbers were frightened away before they could cause another explosion. The bank building was completely wrecked.

BRYAN RECEIVED MUCH ATTENTION FROM THE CUBANS

KEY WEST, Fla., Feb. 13.—W. J. Bryan returned to the United States this evening from a trip to Cuba and the Isle of Pines. He was given much attention in Cuba by the authorities. It is hoped by the American residents of the Isle of Pines that Mr. Bryan's visit will help them in their plans to sever connection with Cuba and become a part of the United States, but Mr. Bryan carefully avoided the subject in all his speeches.

Sheep Industry In This County Is Wabbling Around on Its Last Legs

THREE RANCHERS QUIT THE BUSINESS

Moulton, Echenique and Oryharzabal Turn Their Pasture Over to Cattle

The sheep industry in Orange county is on its last legs. The humble sheep, about which for years was centered one of the greatest industries of this section, has just about bleated its last. He won't be held down by Mexican sheeters many more times, and his off-spring will soon no longer be gathered up and sent to market to make lamb chops and mutton stew. This winter has spelled the end of the industry in the southern end of the county, which for years has been the stronghold of the flocks.

There was a time when any part of Orange county could furnish a setting such as that described in "Ramona." Vast flocks ran the country over. The raising of sheep and cattle were the two principal industries of this district. And that time was not so far in the past as one traveling through orange groves and great grain and lima bean sections might imagine. When the present owner of the San Joaquin ranch took charge of its 108,000 acres, there was little upon it beside sheep, cattle, cactus and brush. Today, there is not much tillable land left to sheep, cactus and brush, and the sheep haven't much of that that is left. Eyrard Brothers' camp at the head of Peters canyon just about represents the remnants of a once flourishing and much favored industry.

In the south end of the county three men who were known as the head of the sheep industry have quit the business. These are L. F. Moulton of El Toro, Cornelio Echenique and Domingo Oryharzabal of San Juan Capistrano. This week a little band of sheep driven from Echenique's ranch in the mission valley marked his final desertion from the groves of wool and mutton. He has a few dozen head in a corral at his ranch to be slaughtered for consumption on the ranch. Moulton likewise has a few left, and they, too, are saved merely for the ranch.

Moulton, Echenique and Oryharzabal are devoting their pasture lands to cattle. They have been raising cattle for years, but divided it between flocks and herds.

"Sheep are too much trouble," explained Echenique, who has control of 6500 acres of foothill pasture. "Cattle are just as profitable, and are far less trouble."

In short, that explanation tells the reason for the desertion of the sheep industry in the south end of the county. A similar story might be told of the north end of the county, where vast herds have been made on pasture land by grain growers.

Sheep need wide range, brush and to be raised most profitably the flocks should be large. Sheep need constant attention. Unless watched they become the prey of coyotes. Wide range is no longer possible. A large part of the high mountains are in the national forest, upon which grazing by sheep is prohibited. Cattle require less attention. They are able to hold their own against coyotes, and the coyote that attacks a calf when its mother is around finds trouble close at hand. A pasture, for instance, big enough to support a dozen head of cattle can be fenced off and the small herd turned in. That could not be done with sheep. The attention required by a small flock of sheep would soon eat up the profit of the business.

He said: "I did send McManigal's wife to him to endeavor to find out whether he charged McNamara's voluntarily or under duress."

Works, and the president of the Southern California branch of the league; J. H. Following the speeches a branch of the league is to be organized in Santa Ana.

FURNISH WATER FOR LAGUNA BEACH

Brooks and Yoch Have Both Developed Good Supply of Fine Mountain Water

NEW HOUSES BUILT

Van Syckle Is Putting Up Garage and Two Stores; Frasier to Run Stage

LAGUNA BEACH, Feb. 13.—Laguna Beach is going to have fresh water piped to the houses. This is good news to those who for years have been coming here to enjoy the charm and attractions of this beautiful beach but who have had to buy their drinking water in bottles and their water for kitchen use in buckets from a man delivering it from a tank on wheels.

Now that the time has come when the beach is to have good water, it is coming in bunches. Two systems are being constructed at the present time. Joseph Yoch, owner of the hotel, is putting in one system, and L. N. Brooks, the pioneer subdivider and booster, is putting in the other. These systems are entirely separate from the Laguna Cliffs Water Co., which has been delivering water to the cliffs houses since the tract was opened up.

Brooks has just struck a fine supply of water at the old Fisher place in Laguna canyon. A tunnel was put into the side of the mountain, and two veins were struck from which water spouted. Brooks will pump into a reservoir that he is going to construct at once. He is now at work on a pipeline from the Fisher ranch to the beach. Brooks will supply his two acres of property in the flat at the point where the creek ends, and will pipe water to all of the lots in his new subdivision, Laguna Heights, which lies along the cliffs between Laguna Beach and Arch Beach. Brooks will also supply old Arch Beach with water, but does not expect to put water onto some of the new subdivisions at Arch Beach. Brooks has graded streets in the Laguna Heights tract, and with water on the tract ought to have no trouble in making many sales this summer.

Joseph Yoch developed a fine supply of water on his ranch in the canyon above the Fisher ranch. He has pipe at Irvine station now ready to be hauled to the canyon for the construction of the pipeline. Yoch will supply all of the Laguna townsite not supplied by Brooks, and will pipe to his tract up toward the school-house.

New Beach Houses

During the winter a number of new houses have been built along the beach from McKnight's subdivision to Arch Beach. C. C. Cravata and W. L. Schultz, baseball players, have been putting in some of their earnings into Laguna Beach real estate and houses. This winter they have built a new house apiece. This season Cravata is to play with Philadelphia, and Schultz will be on the Sacramento pitching staff. They and Joe Berger of Chicago are the only members of the winter baseball colony left here now, others having recently departed.

Capt. A. M. Paul is breaking ground for a new cottage.

J. D. Joy of Glendora has recently finished a summer cottage on his lot on the cliffs.

Another new place built this winter is a cottage on the Cliffs for Miss Bertha Orr of Pasadena.

MISS MOLLIE MACK
One of the thirty Chorus Beauties with Kolb & Dill Here Tonight in "Algeria."

Direct from their phenomenally successful season of over five months at the Savoy Theater, San Francisco, that wonderful pair of laugh-makers, Kolb and Dill, with their big company of fifty, will appear at the Grand Opera House on Thursday, Feb. 13, when they will present for the first time in this city what is generally conceded to be Victor Herbert's most sparkling and tuneful work, "Algeria," while the libretto, by Roland Oliver, was written especially to suit the peculiar talents of the German comedians and their aggregation of merry-makers. The action takes place in an oasis of Algeria, ruled over by a Shiek, who in turn is ruled by his suffragette wives and the Princess Isis. The latter fears that she will become an old maid because the Shiek, tormented by a too up-to-date harem, hesitates to take another bride, and she can marry no one but a noble. The Princess hears of two distinguished strangers in Algeria, one of whom has many titles, and plans to lure them to the oasis. C. C. William Kolb and Max M. Dill are the tourists and the former is a Mystic Shriner, an Elk, an Eagle and a Knight of Pythias. The Shiek claims brotherhood on account of their being Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, and this brotherhood being definitely accepted by the populace, he pretends to be killed, leaving his "brother," according to the law of the land, to inherit the throne—and his wives. Thus Kolb becomes Shiek of the Oasis and is betrothed to Isis, although he is smitten with the maid of honor, Ossi. But the wives prove too much for him, also, and he disappears, the throne falling to his foster brother, in this case Dill. Then come complications that tie up the Oasis in a hard knot and which are not unraveled until the last moment, the character of Fatima, an Oriental dancer who once toured the United States, playing an important part. Kolb and Dill are now carrying the best company that they have ever had, including Maude Amber and Winfield Blake, the dashing and popular duo who were associated with the German comedians during their long engagement at Fischer's Theater in San Francisco before the fire and who went to Australia with them in 1904. Miss Amber, as the Princess, will have three beautiful songs and Blake's splendid baritone will be heard to advantage in one of Victor Herbert's best songs, "Twilight in Barakkeesh." The rest of the big cast will be in capable hands and the two dozen pretty girls of the chorus will be continually in evidence, particularly in the beautiful "Bird of Paradise" ballet. Kolb and Dill pride themselves on the fact that "Algeria" is the finest thing from the standpoint of scenery, costumes and electrical effects that they have ever presented.

MARRIAGE RESTRICTIONS

Senator Anderson is not the only legislator who thinks more restrictions should be thrown around the procedure in getting a marriage license. A bill by Senator Greene of Kansas City, just introduced in the Missouri legislature covering marriage contracts, provides that each applicant for a license must present to the county recorder a certificate from a reputable publican, sworn to before a notary public, which gives in concise terms the health of the bearer and fitness to marry. For three consecutive times the application for a license is to be advertised in a newspaper under the caption of "application for marriage license," giving the name of the man and woman who are to wed. The license is to be issued in the county in which the woman lives provided that if she resides elsewhere the application for the license is to be published in a newspaper of her home. If no charges are filed against either contracting person within one day after the advertising period expires, and the health of the two is satisfactory a license is to be granted. If a charge of unfitness to marry is filed a court review is provided for. A physician making a false affidavit as to the health of an applicant for a license is liable to a fine of from $100 to $1000. In addition his right to practice in the state is forfeited. The cost of a license is increased from $1 to $5.

The Register thoroughly believes in the publicity cure for the hasty marriage evil. And this paper also believes that people physically, mentally or morally unfit should not be permitted to marry, but that is a more complicated problem—indeed it is entirely too complex to be solved by a newspaper editorial.

FOR GOOD MEASURE

Moving Pictures That Talk
Who could have dreamed ten years ago what proportion the moving picture business would reach? You look at it then simply as a popular whim that would hardly keep up with roller skating. The last available figures show that these shows have box office receipts of $102,000,000 a year. Fourteen hundred regular play houses have consequently boarded up their doors, or swapped live actors for films.

The positive announcement by Mr. Edison that he has perfected an invention to combine moving pictures with a photograph promises added impetus to a business that draws three times as many people as the regular dramatic companies. The cost of regular dramatic productions has been steadily mounting, as board and lodging for travelling companies, cost of scenery, and labor in shifting and arranging same, constantly grew higher.

Then came the moving picture show and beat out the barn-stormer company of actors. The actual background of a picture show, with real buildings, tree foliage shimmering in the breeze, shadows flickering on the ground, is as much superior to painted scenery as old Ocean is to the marine chromo. Many a regular dramatic company also is far inferior in brains, and often no better in stage technique, than the ordinary local amateur performance put on for charity.

It costs no money to board a picture film, and it is carted around the country, not in Pullmans, but in freight cars. The one thing desirable about the moving picture business is that the public should care more for really educational pictures of travel rather than dramas of crime and wild life faked in some city suburb. But the tawdry thriller of elopements and pistols often seems to draw the most hand claps.

Woman and Her Pocket
Much used to be said by women about their sufferings for lack of pockets. Perhaps the great agitation for women's rights was due in some measure to envy of man's liberal accommodations for storage. Formerly a woman who did not have sufficient resolution to have a capacious pocket sewn into her gown was considered so lacking in individuality as to be no credit to her sex.

ered creations of linen, dainty, etc., with quaint old sampler stitches. Some lovely stories are told by the old timers about the reputé enjoyed by women skilled in making the old time pockets and reticules. One Matilda was a far famed "pocket maker," and her designs were treasured. It was supposed that she was in love with the parson, a widower, and she gave to his sister one of her cherished patterns. An alleged rival, one Ann, secretly obtained possession of the pattern, and reduced it to confusion by drawing a lot of meaningless lines. When the hodge-podge appeared as the sister worked the bag, she became convinced that Matilda had queerer the pattern from unwillingness to give away her secrets. She so influenced her brother, that he married, not Ann, but a widow from another town.

The Centenary of Trousers
As archaeologists point out, trousers were worn even before the Christian era. They were considered signs of effeminacy, and were often put on captives taken in war as a sign of derision. Their general acceptance, however, seems to date back to the war of 1812, when they became popular through the sailors of the American navy. Trousers have never been an absolutely successful garment. They compare unfavorably with the sack coat, the most appropriate article of clothing ever invented by the human mind for the clothing of man.

The sack coat adjusts itself to any angle the body may take. One puts it on in the morning, and it adjusts itself without calling for further thought to the wearer's motions until he puts it off at night. Not so with trousers. If you wish them to retain their pristine elegance, you must pull up the knees whenever you seat yourself. Frequently they must be toted down to the tailor for pressing and creasing. It is with an undertone of anxiety that the careful dresser wears them all the day long. No garment can be considered wholly successful that thus distracts one's mind from its daily tasks. One should be wholly unconscious of his clothes.

Baldheaded Row

Early Piety Not Always the Cause of Baldness

Inasmuch as it is an accepted fact that baldness, falling hair and dandruff are caused by a germ, doesn't it stand to reason that the only way to prevent such calamities is to kill the germs? And doesn't it stand to reason that the only way to kill these germs is to use Parisian Sage, which Rowley Drug Co. has so much faith in that it guarantees it to cure dandruff, falling hair and itching scalp in two weeks, or money back?

Parisian Sage is a delightful hair tonic pleasant to use. It is not sticky or greasy, and contains only those ingredients that will surely benefit.

It is now sold by druggists all over America, and by Rowley Drug Co. for 50 cents a large bottle. It is used extensively by women who desire luxuriant hair with a radiant luster. The girl with the Auburn hair is on every package.—Advertisement.

HEALTH HINT

The amount of sleep required varies according to age. The importance of sleep in relation to bodily growth is seen in the case of the infant, which for a considerable period after birth passes the most of its time in sleep, only waking to take nourishment. Again, in the period of youth the amount of sleep should be considerable, for the same reason that makes the sleep of the infant all important, namely, that growth is favored by the absence or cessation of bodily work.

For the average adult doing a fair day's work, eight hours' sleep is generally regarded as representing a fitting period for rest. Certain persons, however, by reason of their constitutions, may require a slight addition to this period, while others again are capable of maintaining health on a somewhat less liberal allowance. Medical officers of schools have recently declared themselves in favor of extending the hours of sleep for young and growing bodies, and a period of from nine to ten hours may be reckoned as probably being required for the health of both sexes during the period of adolescence.

DESERT ISLAND SUPPLIES

When we read the story of "Robinson Crusoe" and of the "Swiss Family Robinson" and their experience on sea and land we think it is all very romantic and interesting. But if any of us were landed on a desert island in the midst of the Pacific ocean with no means to get away until some steam vessel saw our warnings and came to the rescue, we should be very glad that desert islands nowadays are not left to themselves quite so much as they were in the old days. In the Pacific ocean there are many small islands or separate groups of islands that are not inhabited and where the expanse of ocean is so vast that many months might easily pass before any one of the regular ships would come near enough these islands to sight a signal. The islands are owned by the different governments, and on some of them the governments have left a store of supplies. There is food, clothing and blankets and, above all, matches for a fire sealed up in a metal box. On some of the islands are found signs telling the direction to the nearest island where the supply station is. Signs tell the anticipated guests that the provisions are for their comfort, and the hospitality of the distant nation is thus extended to the refugees from the deep.

CALIFORNIA'S PETROLEUM

Petroleum was produced in a small way in California very early in the history of the country, in fact, long before it was invaded by the army of gold-seekers. C. Morrell of San Francisco is commonly credited with being the first to attempt the distillation of kerosene from crude petroleum. This was in 1857, but several years prior to that Andreas Pico made illuminating oil from petroleum which he obtained in the Newhall region in Los Angeles county. This oil was burned, so it is said, in lamps in the Mission San Fernando.—Argonaut.

NOTABLE WOMAN HERE

Teachers of City Schools Secured Intellectual Treat In Prof. Sanford's Address

Dr. Maria L. Sanford, who is said to be the first woman in this land of liberty to acquire the title of "professor", now 75 years old and for 48 years professor of rhetoric and public speaking in the University of Minnesota, last night thrilled an audience composed of the city school teachers and their invited guests who filled the high school auditorium to listen to a wonderful woman and a wonderful speaker.

Professor Sanford, who is a marvelous example of her own doctrine which insists that an acquaintance with noble literature teaches us how to live, is full of the fire of eternal youth; eloquent not so much with words of oratory but with earnestness, simplicity and the expression of high thoughts.

Prof. Sanford last night impressed on the minds of parents and teachers the real need of familiarizing the minds of the young with good literature. She declared that acquainting oneself with good literature, which is the record of elevated thought whether expressed in poetry or prose, is to achieve a treasure of the mind that will continually add to the joy of existence, broaden the mind, insure it good deeds and action in the time of trouble. Praising the humor of literature as well as the more serious and majestic "records of thought," Professor Sanford paid a tribute to John G. Saxe, the poet whose philosophy reached multitudes through the medium of his quaint humor.

Illustrating the power of good literature to guide, elevate and strengthen, Professor Sanford recited glowing passages from many illustrious sources.

The possessor of a full and sonorous voice which is capable of expressing by intonation the whole gamut of emotion, the speaker invested every quotation with its full measure of meaning and gave it a beauty that many had never realized before. Her rendition of the old hymns that were learned at her mother's knee was moving, while some of the more lofty strains of illustrious poets held the almost breathless attention of her hearers. Holmes' "The Witch's Broomstick Train" was given as an illustration of humorous literature. Two of Mrs. Browning's poems were matchlessly rendered, as were the readings on Abraham Lincoln given at the close of her lecture. In response to the not-to-be-denied demand for "one more" that was expressed by the enthusiastic applause, Prof. Sanford most beautifully gave Kipling's "Mother O' Mine," concluding an entertainment well worth while.

Principal McMath presided during the evening, and Mrs. I. D. Mills, a long-time friend of Professor Sanford, introduced the speaker, referring to her happy little speech to the fact that she had had the pleasure of introducing two other notable women from that same platform, Miss Frances Willard and Ella Wheeler Wilcox.

American Woman League Meetings

CONCERT PROGRAM ALL OF NUMBERS BY WOMEN COMPOSERS

BERLIN, Germany—A highly interesting and probably unique concert was given recently under the auspices of the German Lyceum Club in the concert room of the Royal High School for Music. The program consisted entirely of compositions by women, rendered by the famous Lieutner orchestra under the conductorship of Herr von Strauss of the Royal Opera.

It was an international program, and not the least interesting feature was the "Rhapsodie Variee" for piano and orchestra by a young French composer, Nadia Boulanger, who conducted her own work, while her master, the well-known pianist, Raoul Fungo, played the solo. Both had come from Paris for the occasion.

Miss Mary Wurm played brilliantly her own concerto for piano and orchestra, and opera scenes were sung by artists of the Royal Opera from the works of Adela Maddison and Ingeborg von Bronsart, a Swedish lady who has written three admirable operas.

Another composer, whose works met with deservedly enthusiastic applause was the Dutch lady, Cornelle van Oosterzee, a violin concerto by Elizabeth Kuyper was well executed by an American, and Fraeulin Hoppe was represented by a couple of dramatic compositions sung by the Dutch member of the Royal Opera Company, Herr Bronsgeest.

Orange with the Orange chapter as hostess and the Fullerton and local chapters as guests. The object of the meeting is to take final action on the federation of the three chapters as a county league. A constitution and by-laws will be passed on.

The meeting will take place in the Campbell building, located at the northwest corner of the Plaza, with entrance on Glassell avenue. A very cordial invitation is extended to all the members of the Santa Ana chapter to attend this meeting and to aid in the formation of a league federation. Those going to Orange should plan to leave here on the 10 o'clock car on Saturday.

Water Makes Alfalfa Possible

Alfalfa at $20.00 per, Makes Everything Possible.

When you buy lands of us you get it all ready to work, gravity water for irrigating purposes, piped to your door. You are not asked to take a single chance. Water development is not only very expensive, but there is always an element of risk about it. We have eliminated this risk entirely by the purchase of water shares for all of our lands. Every one knows the value of water in this country. The main question is, can it be had in sufficient quantity at a satisfactory price. In this, San Jacinto is again blessed, for we are told that this is the cheapest water in the state, and when you take into account that these water shares are independent of the land and can be dealt in independently the same as bonds, it makes a very attractive proposition. The local banks have placed a value on them of $200 per acre, and are making loans on them at that valuation. Water shares in Southern California are considered among the best investments, and seldom if ever depreciate in value. In fact, they very often advance to many times their original cost.

Figure it any way you like, you must count the water stock worth at least what the BANKS ARE WILLING TO TAKE IT AT, or what it is worth in the market today. Granted that it is a good investment of itself, that leaves only $50.00 to $75.00 per acre for the land. WE SAY THAT THIS LAND ALONE IS WORTH MORE THAN WE ARE ASKING FOR BOTH THE WATER AND THE LAND. COME AND LOOK IT OVER AND SEE WHAT YOU THINK ABOUT IT.

Remember, the closing-out price for both the land and the water, right is only $250.00 to $275.00 per acre, all improvements included.

The sun never shone on better soil, or on a prettier place than THE BEAUTIFUL SAN JACINTO AND HEMET VALLEY, AND OUR LANDS ARE THE BEST OF IT ALL. They comprise practically one-half of the great Willow Plume Alfalfa Section near the Caws-on-O-trich Farm, and adjoining the city limits of both San Jacinto and Hemet. SPECIAL UNIVERSITY TRAIN TO AID THE ORANGE GROWERS

"How may we reduce our losses from the recent frosts?"

This question has been coming to the University of California Department of Agriculture from the orange and lemon growers. In response, a special train is to be sent by the University to Southern California to demonstrate how frozen oranges and lemons may be distinguished from undamaged fruit, how frosted orchards should be cared for, and how the loss suffered may be in part offset, as by the planting between the orchard rows of inter-crops such as tomatoes, lima beans, barley, wheat, or sugar beets. This special train is furnished by the generosity of the Southern Pacific Company. On the train will be Director Thomas Forsyth Hunt, Director H. J. Webber of the Citrus Experiment Station at Riverside, who was in Florida as a government citrus expert at the time of the famous freeze of 1894-95, who has for years been investigating problems of frost damage prevention, through the use of resistant varieties, etc., and who is a great authority on all citrus problems; probably Professor E. J. Wickson, of the chair of horticulture; Professor Nathan T. Clark, superintendent of University Extension in agriculture; J. Eliot Colt professor of citology; Professor J. S. Burd, in charge of fertilizer control work; J. B. Neff, the Anaheim walnut grower, who represents the University in Farmers' Institute work in Southern California and others.

This special demonstration train will start out from Los Angeles on Thursday, February 13. It will visit three or four places daily, and at each stopping point will be open to all comers for an hour or more. Meetings will go on simultaneously in several cars, and demonstrations will be given.

The frozen orange or lemon is lighter than the undamaged fruit. This enables the demonstration train workers to show a practicable method of finding out whether oranges have been damaged by the Leffers specific gravity test. Into a bath of wood alcohol and water go the oranges or lemons. The good ones sink. The frozen fruit is lighter, since the juices have dried out, so the bad fruit floats, and can readily be separated from the good. This test should be applied some three days before the oranges are packed. It is not effective for lemons until a month after the freeze, and for oranges, not until two months after. Provided the fruit is dried out afterwards, the test does no harm to oranges and lemons, the lemon actually showing an improvement.

"Can frozen oranges be used in some way?" is a question constantly being asked the University these days. Many are spoiled for food at once. Frozen fruit is, however, perfectly harmless as food, and palatable, if the drying out of the juices has not gone too far. Unfortunately no other use is at present known.

After the drying out spoils the fruit as food, no by-product use being practicable. The easiest disposition of frozen fruit is to plow it under in the orchard. This will do no particular good, except to dispose of the fruit, but it will do no harm to the soil. If considerable brown-rot is present, however, the fruit should be hauled away.

To cut back frozen wood until healthy wood is reached is in broad general terms the advice which the demonstration train will give to the orchardists. If the cutting back goes clear to healthy wood, then the wound will heal better. If, however, the frozen boughs and twigs are left on the trees, there is danger that later on the dead wood will be a channel through which moisture and bacteria and fungi may enter, causing subsequent damage to the tree.

Where damaged bark is cut out, a dressing of burned coal-tar can be used. On the train will be frozen trees, to be used for object-lessons in the methods of cutting back deemed desirable, and for demonstrations in tree surgery.

The planting of inter-crops, between the orchard rows, will be advised by the demonstrators on the special train for orchards of young or medium sized trees as a means of offsetting the loss in this year's citrus crop. From now until the middle of March is just the right time for planting tomatoes, lima or black-eye beans, and sugar beets, and not too late for wheat or barley. These crops should bring in a profit and help to tide over the lean time until oranges and lemons can again be harvested profitably. Nor will these inter-crops do any harm to the citrus trees. On the contrary, the beans will positively enrich the soil, since the bacteria on their roots will help to increase the nitrogen content.

A frost damage survey of all Southern California is now being made by a number of investigators sent out by the University. Such frost experiences as this are an experience of the citrus regions of Spain, Italy, Florida, and other lands where the best oranges are raised. One object of the survey will be to find trees or buds which seem to have showed special powers of resistance to frost damage. From these grafting can perhaps be done of citrus stock self-insured against frost damage.

The demonstration train meetings will be held, aboard the cars, on the schedule as published in this paper yesterday, but here repeated for those who may have missed seeing it.

CHILDREN THROWN OUT OF VEHICLE

As Joe Gutierrez was driving across Main street at Third shortly before 3 o'clock this afternoon, his horse slipped and fell. The sudden jostling of the buggy caused his two small children to be thrown over the dashboard and just in front of the wheels. The father had the animal almost to a standstill, but the wheels threatened to go over the bodies of the little ones when a Mr. Van Syck rushed into the street and drew them out of all possible danger. They escaped injury. No damage was done.

"This captain," so General Sickles tells the tale, "was continually getting sick and being reported unfit for duty whenever there was a big battle in sight."

"After he had shirked about seven battles by means of sick leave, he became notorious; and it is said that he once overheard, from the hospital tent, two newboys talking about himself."

"Juan," said the first boy, "we'd better order an extra supply of papers. There's going to be some talk fighting tomorrow."

"How do you know that?" Pepe, the second boy, asked.

"Captain Blanc," was the reply, "is sick again."

ANAHEIM, Feb. 13.—The Anaheim Board of Trade recently discussed river protection, the surveying having been completed along the bank of the Santa Ana River from the Olive bridge five miles north. The petition is in the hands of the Supervisors and doubtless actual work on the river bank will commence at an early date. The matter of the state highway was also taken up again, and the committee is awaiting the decision of the bankers of Orange county, who talked very favorably of purchasing sufficient bonds to build the highway through this county, a distance of forty-two miles.

A committee from the local Board of Trade was appointed to confer with W. A. Zimmerman, president of Orange County Savings and Trust Company, Santa Ana, and also president of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of this county, as to the movement among the bankers, and it is hoped that he may stir up enough enthusiasm to start the ball rolling.

The burial of Willard Rogers of Placentia occurred yesterday afternoon at the Anaheim cemetery. Mr. Rogers died Sunday evening at the age of 21 and is the younger son of J. C. Rogers, a successful orange grower of the Placentia district.

Orange News: An attempt will be made by the council to secure a reduction of the minimum electric lighting rate. The minimum of the Edison company at present is $1 while in Santa Ana it is 50 cents. The trustees believe Orange is entitled to the same minimum rate and acting on that belief, the fire and water committee was appointed to confer with the Edison Company.

The annual water rate ordinance was introduced and passed to second reading. It is probable that few changes will be made in the present ordinance.

NEWPORT BEACH, Feb. 13.—The annual banquet of the Collins Commercial Company was held at Gray's Cafe at Balboa Monday evening and was attended by about thirty employees. A fine spread was served at which roast mallard duck was the piece de resistance. W. S. He outlined some of his plans for the coming year.

W. A. Cornelius complimented the company for being one of the foremost factors in the development of Newport Bay to its present stage. He said that the War Department, as learned at the meeting in Col. McKinstry's office in Los Angeles on Monday, had paved the way for the commencing of the jetty building by the city. The city will make good by voting $100,000 in bonds for that purpose as soon as the harbor lines are approved at Washington. It is announced.

More Big Things for Yucaipa

Here are a bunch of paragraphs which tell of more new and good things for Yucaipa Valley.

The Edison company has commenced to put a high power line through the valley to supply power to the new pumping plants and furnish light to the ranches.

The big sixty million gallon storage reservoir began leaking some time ago. Now a concrete lining is being put in at a cost of eight thousand dollars additional. This improvement will make it perfectly secure.

Twenty-four miles of water mains now being laid on the "South Bench," which makes a total of 65 miles of water mains. This is both for irrigating and domestic use.

Seventy acres to be set to tomatoes, between the young trees, has been contracted for. This is one of the by-products.

Tree planting has commenced. 40,000 trees are on the ground ready for the spring setting. The abundant rains have put the valley in fine condition.

The Growers' Club is negotiating for a site for their building.

The big water developments are going along apace and all other improvements which we have noted from time to time are progressing.

We make two or three trips a week to Yucaipa. Go with us and see this fine development. Here is the place for home-seekers, for fine investment. Come and learn about the price, the easy terms, low interest and many other things you ought to know. Phone 976W.

SPOUTING WELL CAPPED--FIND ANOTHER

Considerable Excitement in the Coyote Oil Fields in Consequence

The big spouting gusher struck in the Coyote Hill oil district out of Fullerton a few days ago, is now under control, having been successfully capped yesterday afternoon, but considerable excitement has been caused by the finding of another spouter not more than 200 feet away from the other one.

The big well, which is known as No. 6 on the Murphy lease, was not capped until after it had partially destroyed the derrick. It will be necessary to rebuild the derrick before further drilling operations can be resumed. It is the intention of the company to go down about 1000 feet further. Rebuilding will begin at once.

About the time No. 6 was being tamed, the second well began throwing up oil and water to a height of about 200 feet. The workmen got busy in a hurry because of the dread of a second occurrence of the No. 6 style, and they were successful, and it was capped down before any damage had resulted.

AT THE COURTHOUSE

CATTLE THIEF AT WESTMINSTER WANTED

Mechanic's Lien Suit Brought Here by Los Angeles Company

The opening case before Judge West in the superior court this morning related to a mechanic's lien suit, the plaintiff in the action being the Los Angeles Milling & Lumber Company and the defendants Elizabeth Miller and the Orange Building & Loan Association. About $1000 is involved.

The proceedings were continued until 2:30 o'clock Friday afternoon.

Report Calf Stolen
Telephonic communication was received this morning at the district attorney's office from Westminster, complaint being made that cattle thieves have been busy thereabouts of late, and that last night a calf had been stolen from one of the residents.

A Cholo is suspected of being the chief marauder, and request was made for an officer with a John Doe warrant to make a visit and pick up the suspect. The request was refused but the complainant was advised to visit the courthouse in person and swear to a complaint.

Had Parents' Consent
When Rodney M. Doremus and Miss Genevieve M. Elliott visited the court house for a marriage license, it developed that the groom-to-be was but 20 years of age, or one year shy the legal tender. The near-bride was on the safe side of the law with 18 years to her credit. But Doremus had not forgotten that he is still a minor and he presented County Clerk Williams with a sworn statement from his parents in which they gave their consent to his contemplated marriage. So the license was issued.

Marriage Licenses
James G. McMeekin, 36, Los Angeles, and Mabelle E. C. Misi, 25, Dayton, O.
Elmer Young, 21, Los Angeles, and Mabel Yager, 18, Santa Monica.
Andrew J. Russell, 21, and Florence M. Shute, 18, both of San Diego.
Rodney M. Doremus, 20, and Genevieve M. Elliott, 18, both of Los Angeles.
Charles W. Hafer, 21, and Mary E. Graham, 18, both of Orange.

Appraisers Appointed
Judge West this morning appointed James O'Brien, John N. Anderson and Decimus Parslow as appraisers of the estate of the late James M. Brown.

Answer to Suit
Attorney Samuel J. Crawford today filed answer to the suit of the Pacific Electric Railway Company to condemn certain land owned by Maggie Kilty et al, in which $1250 is fixed as the true value of the property instead of $1000 as claimed by the company. Stipulation was also filed that the defendants' demurrer shall be overruled.

Hearing Will Proceed
By stipulation and agreement filed today, it is agreed that the hearing in the suit of W. R. and Martha R. Barnett against J. W. Hansard and the First National Bank of Anaheim shall proceed tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock.

Seeking Girl's Care
A petition was filed today by Probation Officer J. H. Scott asking that Cora Kelley be declared a dependent child. The girl's mother, Mrs. W. W. Kelley, resides at Wintersburg, Cal.

Promissory Note
Suit was filed in the superior court this afternoon by the Peat Land & Realty Company against M. C. Co. to recover $433 alleged to be due on a promissory note.

Petition in Estate
George R. Wells, as administrator of the estate of W. G. Wells filed a petition this afternoon for court authority to convey to F. B. Dyar for $2000 part of lot 5, East Side addition to Santa Ana. March 14th was set for the hearing.

Lineberger's Inventory
Supervisor Lineberger today filed with the county clerk an inventory showing county property under his direction, which includes all the graders, wagons, plows, etc., in the La Habra, Fullerton, Buena Park and Anaheim road districts.

To Paint C. H. Roof
Bids will be called for and opened March 5 for painting the roof of the county courthouse.

Wants Road Opened
A letter was received by the supervisors today from Anna Derksen praying for the opening of a 30-foot strip of roadway that leads to her place in township 4 south, range 9 and to west. This is an old disputed problem, it being claimed that the road is county property but has been fenced in by Mr. Tucker. Surveyor McBride failed to find any record showing that the road had ever been deeded to the county.

Files Demurrer
A demurrer was filed today by Attorney H. C. Head to the amended complaint of Harry Jessup in his action against San Joaquin Warehouse Company and J. P. Skinner.

MORE NICARAGUAN TROUBLE
Filibusters Alleged to Be Planning Expedition into the Revolt Ridden Country

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—Department of Justice officials yesterday indicated there may be more trouble in Nicaragua, as evidence has been discovered of a plot to depose President Diaz of the republic. Special guards have been sent to New Orleans and other Gulf ports as well as New York, to look out for filibusters alleged to be planning an expedition into Nicaragua.

The department is little concerned about charges made in New York by Jacinto Lopez that Castro is planning another revolution in Venezuela. Bruce Bielaski, chief of the bureau of investigation of the department, said he has had detectives on the trail of Castro and he has learned nothing that would indicate Castro is plotting again.

WOMAN AND CHILD LABOR FOR MERE PITTANCES IN

ALBANY, N. Y., Feb. 13.—How children of tender years slave for hours in canning sheds with their blistered fingers wrapped in rags and likewise in tenements, making toys, flowers and plumes, and how women toil in industrial establishments in this state, sometimes for mere pittance, is graphically described in the report of the State Factory Investigation Commission, which was submitted to the legislature yesterday.

IN THE JUSTICE COURT

BROTHER AGAINST BROTHER AT LAW

Money Matters Array Them in Court for Satisfaction of Their Differences

Only one case occupied the attention of Justice of the Peace Cox this morning, and the prospects were this afternoon that unless something out of the ordinary came up, there would be no other case heard.

It was a case of brother fighting brother over money matters, although the sum involved is less than $100. It is a civil action, the plaintiff being H. G. Holt of the Allerton house, and C. J. Holt, a millman, as the defendant.

The plaintiff alleges that he sold to his brother certain goods, that he performed certain labor and that he has at various times loaned him small sums of money, until the total debt now due him aggregates $95.50. All of these allegations are either denied or explained by the defendant.

Attorney E. E. Koehn represents the defendant and W. H. Thomas is the legal adviser of the plaintiff.

GET A TEN CENT BOX OF CASCARETS

Keep Your Liver and Bowels Active and You Feel Bulky For Months

Put aside—just once—the Salts, Cathartic Pills, Castor Oils or purgative waters which merely force a passageway through the bowels, but do not thoroughly cleanse, freshen and purify these drainage or alimentary organs, and have no effect whatever upon the liver and stomach.

Keep your inside organs pure and fresh with Cascarets, which thoroughly cleanse the stomach, remove the undigested, sour and fermenting food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system all the constipated waste matter and poisons in the intestines and bowels.

A Cascaret tonight will make you feel great by morning. They work while you sleep—never gripe, sicken and cost only 10 cents a box from your druggist. Millions of men and women take a Cascaret now and then and never have headache, biliousness, coated tongue, indigestion, Sour Stomach or Constipated bowels. Cascarets belong in every household. Children just love to take them.—Advertisement.
